Überblick

Partnering with the country’s public utility EMAE, we’re set to install photovoltaic plants at São Tomé’s national airport and on Príncipe Island. On one hand, global climate change poses a direct threat to our way of life; on the other, continued reliance on outdated fossil energy sources, uch as imported diesel, is no longer sustainable. O Governo de São Tomé e Príncipe está a dar um passo importante para um futuro energético mais limpo e fiável ao planear a construção de uma nova central solar na Ilha do Príncipe. Este projeto, apoiado pelo Banco Africano de Desenvolvimento, utilizará a luz solar para gerar eletricidade e. All units of the plant are now under commercial operation, after successfully being connected to the local electricity [pdf] The project, which has a targeted capacity of 11 MW, is aimed at cutting reliance on costly thermal generation and securing greater energy independence and resilience. The aim of this study is to contribute to energy sustainability in an emerging country where renewable energies have been little analysed and developed.
